Caribou continued its commitment to sustainability and community, including supporting the International Women's Coffee Alliance and contributing to environmental efforts. Looking ahead, Caribou is poised for continued growth and positive impact in 2025.

We opened new locations in several markets, welcomed new partners and team members, made exciting changes, brought in new technology and continued to make great strides in our commitment to our people, the environment and the communities where we make a difference.

2024 laid the groundwork for what's ahead—a year where we'll lean into our strengths, fine-tune our craft, and aim even higher. As we look to the future, let's take a moment to celebrate the extraordinary achievements of the past year and get inspired for what's to come.

Fort Worth surpasses Austin, becomes Texas' 4th largest city amidst booming growth, report says

MARC ISTOOK, FEBRUARY 27, 2025 (WFAA.COM)

Fort Worth goes by a lot of names. And it seems there are more people using those names than ever. The city is in the middle of an all-around boom. Population. Economic development. Higher education. You name the sector, and it's growing.

According to the Census Bureau, it's the fastest-growing big city in America. Last July's estimate pegged the population at 978,468 residents. But with an average of 59 new residents every day, city officials say that number is now likely more than a million. This means Fort Worth has more people than other cities like Denver, Seattle or San Francisco.

According to the Census Bureau, Fort Worth is the fastest-growing big city in America.

According to the Texas Demographics Center's population estimates, Fort Worth has passed Austin to become the 4th largest city in the state.

In one of the city's 327,379 housing units. That's a 12.5% increase since 2010, compared to a 32% population growth, underscoring the city's continual need for more affordable housing.

Though jobs don't seem to be a problem. WalletHub named Fort Worth the 7th best city in the United States for starting a business. The newly created Fort Worth Economic Development Partnership boasts more than $2 billion in capital investments since it began in 2023.

The project calls for more than 300,000 square feet of new commercial space, with room for hotels, dining, entertainment, parking and more.

Prosperous Fort Worth declared No. 2 best economic boomtown in America

AMBER HECKLER, JULY 04, 2024 (CULTUREMAP FORT WORTH)

Move over, Austin: Fort Worth's booming financial prosperity has earned the city an impressive ranking of No. 2 in a new list of best U.S. cities for economic growth. It outperformed all major cities in Texas.

The new study, "America's Boomtowns: Top Cities for Economic Growth," from flexible workspace listing provider CoworkingCafe, ranked America's boomtowns based on population growth, GDP, employment rates, and other economic factors.

According to the report, Fort Worth's economic successes can be attributed to population growth, a steady increase in housing, and an attraction of major businesses and employers across all industries, including technology, healthcare, and logistics.

The top cities were divided into three categories: small cities (populations under 250,000); mid-sized cities (populations between 250,000 and 500,00); and large cities (populations over 500,000). Fort Worth earned a score of 64 points in the large city category to claim the No. 2 spot. Cowtown trailed just two points behind Mesa, Arizona, which was ranked America's No. 1 boomtown. Rounding out the top five are Phoenix, Arizona (No. 3); Sacramento, California (No. 4); and Austin, Texas and Fresno, California in a two-way tie for No. 5.

CoworkingCafe says the city's population grew 7 percent to 957,000 residents in 2022, and the housing sector has grown 11 percent since 2018, the second highest jump in housing across all major cities.

Approved by the Texas Real Estate Commission for Voluntary Use

Texas law requires all real estate licensees to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

Information about brokerage services

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties' consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated by law to treat you honestly.

If the broker represents the owner

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written – listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

If the broker acts as an intermediary

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- Shall treat all parties honestly

- May not disclose any confidential information or any information that a part specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property.

With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions.
